Save Yourself

Area 7

There's something - something strange going on around this place.
Things aren't the same here anymore.
There's too much talk, too many rumours goin' round.
Too many words behind closed doors.One slip and suddenly your motives are revealed.
There's nothing left to be explained.
A stab in the back, and all your plans have come undone.
Now things will never be the same.There's nothing left for you to do,
The choice is yours, its up to you,
You can do what's right or Save Yourself.
There's nothing left for you to do,
The choice is yours - its me or you,
You can do what's right or Save Yourself.Don't tell me - you didn't mean me any harm.
Don't try to justify those lies.
How does it feel to see your world come crashing down?
The next move is yours, it's do or die
