

Brick By Brick

Newton Faulkner

I'm hoping it'll all get better
But it keeps on getting worse
Time and time again
People running as the earth shakes
It's just another earthquake
Coming in to break my faith in this
Wind blowing off the roof tops
Water in the basement
It's looking like lightning strikes again
A story ends and another begins
And they will keep on coming
They'll keep on coming
Every single flame
Buns bright and fades
Well thats ok

Chorus:

My best laid plans have washed away
No time to make them all again
Sometimes life gets in the way
We've got to keep on breathing
Look how far we've come
Look what we made

Started with nothing building
Brick by brick
So we're back to broken hearted
Back to where we started
Everything we built, torn down again
If this was in the movies
But said to be the truth bet
No one would believe a word of it
Fire raging on the hillsides
Loosing by a landslide
Everybody's patients wearing thin
A drama ends and another begins
If everybody looses
Everybody wins
Every single flame
Burns bright and fades

But thats ok

Chorus

All we have is us to build back up what we have lost but thats enough

Every single flame

Burns bright then fades

(But thats ok)

Chorus (X3)

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>