The Time Has Come

At Vance

You took their lives
And you took their souls
To be the king of their land
You brought them misery
Anger and pain
To keep the crown in your handsBut soon they will tear you
Down to the crowd
The prophecy's coming true
It's death and revenge what they shoutThe time has come
To face your desteny
Your life is done
And you're burning for eternityYou promised them heaven
And brought them to hell
Behind your blood shedded walls
Why don't you see
You're under a spell
And madness has taken its tollAnd they won't forgive you
Soon you will die
And noone will help you thru
The price that you pay for your liesThe time has come
To face your desteny
Your life is done
And you're burning for eternity
