Sneaker Pimps

Your heart is served cold
Your sights are set in perfect stone
And when you go you go alone
And when you stand you're on your ownI wash the streets from your skin when you come home
I wash the streets from your skin when you come homeWe're nothing like friends
You have no time to lend
And if you're guilt then I'm the shame
And if I'm hurt then you're the blameYou wash my trace from your skin and you leave again
You wash my trace from your skin and you leave again[Incomprehensible]
Life, breath [Incomprehensible]Random laid plans
Five days of one night stands
And when you go you go alone
You walk the cross you made your ownI wash the streets from your skin when you come home
I wash the streets from your skin when you come homeI wash the streets from your skin
I wash the streets from your skin
I wash the streets from your skin
