300 Miles

St. Vitus Dance

300 miles and I'm wasted.
300 miles and I'm waiting for you.
But, you're not coming back.Whispering pretty things in my ears.
All these promises that you made.
I guess they don't mean a thing.Always thought I'd forgive this.
Always thought that the ugly would fade.
But, you ain't going away.Closing my eyes for an instant.
Remembering every scar that you gave.
Now, I can't feel a thing.We won't die, you give me one.
Give me one back.Can't help myself, baby.When you call my name.Flickering lights in the distance.
I'm standing here, waiting for the scenery to change.
I've been waiting all day.All I wanted was to believe.
Now that you're gone. Now that I know.
It was never enough.We won't die, you give me one.
Give me one back.Can't help myself, baby.Yeah, ooooh. When you call my name.I can't help myself, baby.300 miles and I'm waiting.
300 miles and I'm waiting for you.
But, you're not coming back.
You're not coming back.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/