C. Thomas Howell as the "Soul Man"

Botch

Stop the show
Listen up
We've got something to say and it's important
Can't hear the words you say
Or the notes you play
And you're not changing the world
Just a few more moments of your time
Just a few more moments, while I speak
So we can change your mindWe're all breaking ground
Bringing the revolution around
Support this support that once again
It's all an act
Wasting our time on you stopSupport this support that once again
It's all an actThe worst music I've ever heard
Honesty that touches a nerve
The words fall onto the floor
Drive home with no lessons learnedSoon the content outweighs the form
With time, the sounds get boring
For you and me, this posture is self-serving

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/