

Thrown to the Wolves

Four Star Mary

walked on the stones
then sank through these oceans heaven's fields laid bare i'd give up the ghosts
locked up inside me
if i ever once had cared and time won't
ever fade
silken the threads
that break
thrown to the wolves
i'm always frozen
when will i finally reach the stairs
scattered my thoughts
like dry leaves before me blown and cut to shreds laughed at the kings
that knelt down before me and i severed all their heads
and time won't
ever fade
thrown to the wolves
thrown to the wolves
twenty eight thousand stories higher
