Communion (2009 Remastered)

Nothingface

As time goes by and it's an endless deal, myself, my life
Think about my simple rights, just run away from my only fears
Contradict and compromise, made to feel like nothingShe...she wanted everything, made me see where I fall from behindI bring myself under, time is an endless blur, I give my soul to you,
Time that my heart is used and giving is something you don't think about Lying is just what you're all about
Please let my soul rest, I'll give myself just a little while
