

If You Run

You Me at Six

They say the problems come
Come in pairs and I am number one
So take a look at your friends
Oh envy is a terrible thing
No you, your so smart, so smart you that didn't call my bluff
And if you could, you just wouldIf you run
If you runIf you run away you wont stay
And that's so cool
And its like you wanted it too
Say, take it away take it away
Its easy to stay, easy to stay
When you no everythingYou had us all convinced
You were something, someone couldn't miss
Well why did you miss?
You say
You'll give it up,and you'll give it up all the way, you'll give it and give it up all the way, give it up,give it up, give it awayIf you run
If you runIf you run away you wont stay
And that's so cool
And its like you wanted it too [we stay]
Say, take it away take it away
Its so easy to stay, easy to stay
When you no everything
OhhhhI've got one good reason to keep you on your feet
I got another in the back, home in a seat.
I've got one good reason to keep you on your feet
I got another in the back, home in a seat.
I've got one good reason to keep you on your feet
I got another in the back, home in a seat.
I've got one good reason to keep you on your feet
I got another in the back, home in a seat.I've got one good reason! To keep you on your feet!
I got another in the back! Home in a seat!And your so coolRun around, just running your mouth
You're by the hotel, who's doing you now?
And your so cool, so coolRun around, just running your mouth
You're by the hotel, who's doing you now?
And your so cool, so cool
