Your Time Is Done

The Animal In Me

Your time is doneI was to blame for everything you became but now it's dark and the curtain is closing I never wanted it to end up this way so be the person that you're meant to be when you're chosenmy eyes are closed and now i'm hangin'
on a hopeful heart
and i know that you'll find some meaning
now that your story's ending
i can finally start
tracing it all back to youHad it all but we sat
by while your walk
had we known
that you never had control
we would have stopped youBut i've waited
for some sort of sign
you'd open your eyes
and see what you've become
cause i'm aiming
to just change your mind
and make you feel right
before your time is done
your time is doneMy eyes are closed
tracing it all back to youI hear you kicking and screaming
cause you're in pain
i hear you crying
but i know you're not dying in vain
the ghost that haunts you relentlessly in your dreams is closing in but now i won't let it take

you awayHad it all but we sat
had we know
Time is doneNow i'm bringing you home you shut me out from nearly everything you've done now you're here cause
you know that you're dying alone
you use to doubt
you'd ever find me
but i was there
and now i'm here
to bring you back
to the biginning (x2)
please come home (x2)
please just stop me
from beggingBut i've waited
