

Breaking Up My Heart

Top of the Poppers

Ev'rything you say
Ev'rything you do
Always seems to put me down, put me down
Is there something wrong? Do I still belong?
Is it just a run-around? Run-around
Don't say he's not the reason why
'Cause when I lie awake it's his name I hear you cry
Thought he'd left your mind
And that only time stood
Between your fantasy, fantasy
Guess I always knew he'd be haunting you
Stealing what you had from me, had for me
I can't stand here and let it die
Ev'ry step you take
I'll be there right by your side
'Cause it's breaking up my heart feel like dying
Breaking up my heart feel like crying
Tell him where to go, show the man the door
'Cause ev'rything you do is breaking up my heart
I won't let you go, baby, never know

Can't you get it through your head? Through your head?
I won't set you free, you belong to me
What he had for you is dead, love is dead
Love burns fire that never cools
Don't you know that love
Burns people who break the rules?
'Cause it's breaking up my heart feel like dying
I can't stand here and let it die
Ev'ry step you take
I'll be there right by your side
I won't let you go, oh, you never know
Breaking up my heart feel like dying
Breaking up my heart feel like crying
Tell him where to go, show the man the door
'Cause ev'rything you do is breaking breaking
Breaking up my heart, breaking up my heart
Tell him where to go, show the man the door
'Cause ev'rything you do is breaking breaking

Breaking up my heart feel like dying
Breaking up my heart feel like crying
