

Changes (feat. River)

Oliver Nelson

"You're my one and only," that's what you'd always say
But one day you got cold feet and took your love away
You wanted more from life and I couldn't make you stay
And then it hit me, it hit me, it hit me Everything has changed

Everything is changing
Everything has changed
Just a memory fading Everything has changed

I'm just a memory fading
Now everything has changed

Everything has changed
I'm just a memory fading
Now everything has changed

Everything has changed
I'm just a memory fading
Now everything has changed

Everything has changed
I'm just a memory fading
Now everything has changed

Everything has changed

You said that all you needed was just a little time
And pretty soon, you'll come back and then you will be mine
You told me not to wait just in case you change your mind
So you can test the waters whilst leaving me behind Everything is changing

Everything has changed
Just a memory fading Everything has changed

I'm just a memory fading
Now everything has changed

Everything has changed
I'm just a memory fading
Now everything has changed

Everything has changed
I'm just a memory fading
Now everything has changed

Everything has changed
I'm just a memory fading
Now everything has changed

Everything has changed

As you walk out the door
Leave me brokenhearted, don't want me anymore

Numb from all the pain as I lay here on the floor
And then it hit me, it hit me, it hit me
Everything has changed Everything has changed
I'm just a memory fading
Now everything has changed
Everything has changed
I'm just a memory fading
Now everything has changed
Everything has changed
I'm just a memory fading
Now everything has changed
Everything has changed
I'm just a memory fading
Now everything has changed
Everything has changed
