

Born For This

Matthew West

All my life, I've been searching for the answer
For the answer to the question
Where are you? Up all night
Tryin' to see into the future
Hoping you were somewhere out there searching too Not a smile and shy hello and say goodbye to life as you know it Now I'm not asking questions any more
Found the reason he was putting on this earth
Every heartbeat pounding inside my chest
Telling me we were born for this
For this perfect moment and every moment after
For this first day of forever
Eyes-closed kiss, we were born for this A thousand miles walking in the wrong direction Turns out I was always headed straight to this Place in time, all the pieces finally did arrive
When you take my hand it feels like I am home Not answer to a prayer, I see you standing there, not life as you
know it Now I'm not asking questions any more
Found the reason he was putting on this earth
Every heartbeat pounding inside my chest
Telling me that we were born for this
For this perfect moment and every moment after
For this first day of forever
Eyes-closed kiss, we were born for this It doesn't matter where I go from this, as long as I go there with you All my life I've been searching for the answer
For the answer to the question
Where are you? I'm not asking questions any more
Found the reason he was putting on this earth
Every heartbeat pounding inside my chest
Is telling me we were born for this
For this perfect moment and every moment after
For this first day of forever
Eyes-closed kiss, we were born for this It doesn't matter where I go from this, as long as I'm going there with you
