Weight of the World

Patrick Watson

I got my feet knocked off the ground I got my head knocked off my feet I tried to swallow all of the world And now Im diving in too deep And now Im falling towards the sky I just dont know how am I But I got the weight of all the world I better not let go of the reinsOh what am I supposed to do Am I spposed to echo all of you? Am I spposed to fall back to the sky? Or keep on rising for a while? I think Im fallin down Im back to very ground I couldnt hold it anymore Ive had my hours asking for I think these nice to hold Or I dont see how could I change my way I was carrying the weight of all the world Im gonna get what I deserve I got my feet knocked off the ground I got my head knocked off my feet I tried to spin it all away I think I got in too deep I think you know I have to go I think you know what I deserve Here comes the weight of all the world And its coming straight for me.
