

A New Me

Light Up The Sky

Why make war when we can make peace
Blocking the path we walk on
Fuck their judgment, take a stand
Put your dreams in the spotlight I'm falling, but I won't let it stop me
I'm thinking that it's all just in my head
It's time that I become a new me
I'm done with lying to myself Why make enemies, I'm not the one to blame
Making each other question their own lives
Fuck their judgment, take a stand
Put your dreams in the spotlight I'm sick of everything you put in my head
I'm making changes just to get you to see me
But I don't wanna live my life like that
The only enemy in the way is...you What am I left with when I let them fill my head
Where do I go when I discover the truth
I am the missing piece, I am the broken link
Just listen to the words I say I'm falling, but I won't let it stop me
I'm thinking that it's all just in my head
It's time that I become a new me
I'm done with lying to myself
I've tried so hard
I won't give up now
It's time that I become a new me
I'm done with lying to myself We're always searching
Always believing
We're always searching
Always defeating I'll fight for what is right
I'll never lose my line of sight I've tried so hard
I won't give up now I'm falling, but I won't let it stop me
I'm thinking that it's all just in my head
It's time that I become a new me
I'm done with lying to myself
I've tried so hard
I won't give up now
I'm falling but I won't let it stop me
I'm done with lying to myself
