Red House Painters

How have you been Caroline?
Living okay? Home in PA
See how the color left from our faces
From when, when we were younger Just yesterday I was making the reach
Went for a swim in lover's beach
And there I met friends and I neared the bay
Until I felt sick But you were my friend
Don't you know how I needed you then
I felt nervous when you shook and cried
The circles under your eyes
Made love till you reached the clouds
Through the ceilings and walls that surround One time you drove through heat and hard rain
Three hundred miles in the roots of your pain
Things get so far back in your mind
That we don't connect
