Christmas Memories

Julianne Hough

Christmas time is one of my favorite times of the year.
And every time I think of it, it makes me think of my family.
And everybody getting together around Christmas Eve.
And one of our traditions is to go ice skating.
And when we finish with that, we'll come home, we get hot chocolate, and put marshmallows in.
And we watch White Christmas together.
And after that, we get to open one present before we go to bed.
And all of us, kids, knows what it is, it's pajamas
It's pajamas every single year.
But we'd put them on, we go to sleep.
Even though we are all grown up we get up at 6 a.m. and wake everybody up.
Come down the stairs and get to open presents up with the family.
And the most important thing about Christmas though is to spend that time with the family.
And making those memories.
And making those memories last the whole year, until the next Christmas.
