And Now

Milano

And now when the end is near
I know you meant everything you gave to me that year
We were all alone when the sunlight heats our bones
As the street/string? carried us home.
Take it for what it's worth,
Those days we walked the earth
Remember how much it hurts
Just a tiny taste don't let us go to waste
But to hell with the time and place.
And now my heart will go on
It's blind from broken hearts
That write the words of every song
And when you've made up your mind,
I'll be in every town,
I promise i'll show you around.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/