

How Much More

Stars

How much more am I supposed to take
How much more am I supposed to break
You asked for time, and time takes you away
I'm alone and you're a man
I need you closer to me
My hands are tied because I won't say goodbye
I tried
I told you I was brave but I lied Is this the story or is this the end I always kill your shadow but,

here we are again in the wild, in the way you love me with your smile, will you ever save save me because we can't freeze ourselves in this hell you came with me so hopeless I fell
How much more am I supposed to take
I can find forever in other ways but how much more
how much more
I need you closer to me
Always.
