Arkansas

Garrett Kato

We're the last ones on the train Everywhere i go, everything i've seen over and over again, over and over again rolling when the engine starts everything i need just to break my heart i only want to take you home, i only want to take you home all the way to arkansas and i beleive in everything we got because i be going away for a long time but ill be strong for you, i can understand why dont you ever just want to start again holding my head up high nothing seems real, nothing satisfies all of my wasting years, all of my wasting years can you make me an honest man cause im howling in the night at the local bar i can hear the music tonight, yeah i can hear the music tonight
all the way to arkansas and i believe in every thing we got cause i be going away for a long time but ill be strong for you, i can unserstand why, dont you ever just want to start again dont you ever just want to lie to me

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/