

This Time

Los Lobos

Why do the days go by so fast
If only time was built to last
If it could learn to take it slow
Then maybe time at last would know That if Monday, Tuesday should go away
It'll be Wednesday, Thursday then Saturday
And when Sunday comes
It's just too late, it's gotta be this time How come the days do what they do
Maybe if time, time only knew
Could be that time don't really know
That it should try to take it slow Then maybe Monday, Tuesday won't go away
Then maybe Thursday, Friday could be like Saturday
And when Sunday comes it's never too late
It'll be this time, it's gotta be this time, this time How come the days do what they do
Maybe if time, time only knew That if Monday, Tuesday should go away
It'll be Wednesday, Thursday then Saturday
And when Sunday comes it's just too late
It's gotta be this time, it's gotta be this time
It's never too late, it's gonna be this time, this time
