Remain

Delphic

Here again, don't give yourself away again
Surrendering some things are better left unsaid
Gone again, I'd settle down, I'd settle for content
To stay, just finding what's been left behindGive it all just to get it
You're missing pieces everywhere
Waiting for something better
When nothing ever seems to changeGive it all just to get it
You're missing pieces everywhere
Waiting for something better
A hiding shadow they'll remainLost again, my own best friend I don't know
What to say, or who'd be listening
And when it breaks, it breaks in silence I can't carry on Unchanged, it's only fragments they remainGive it all just to get it
You're missing pieces everywhere
Waiting for something better
When nothing ever seems to changeGive it all just to get it
You're missing pieces everywhere
Waiting for something better
A hiding shadow they'll remainGive it all, I could give it all
Give it all, I could give at all
Give it all, I could give it all
Give it all, I could give at all
