

Falling Star

Jet

Know that I loved you from the start
When we believed in who we are
I never dreamed my life this way Don't wish upon a falling star
Love will remind us who we are
I dreamed a dream, so much has changed Wake, you've been sleeping
And tell me what to believe in
You fell so far, you should have been a star Before the light begins to fade
I was hoping that you'd show me the way
To never ever be afraid to change Wake, you've been sleeping
And tell me what to believe in
Wake, you've been sleeping
You pushed too far, now you're bleeding
You fell so far, you should have been a star The light that you've been keeping inside
Will guide you on your way
