Bitter

The Deadlights

You think that you can forget me as soon as you can find someone new?
But you can never forgive me for all the things you say that I put you through.
Do you still wonder about me?
If I've found something to ease my pain, and did you think you could hurt me?
By driving me insane?
Let Go!
You killed me, left me there to rot
I let go, now I am beyond control
Never forget my face
Inside your heart is an empty space
But you can never forget my face
I'll take the blame you shove away
There's not much more for us to save
I'll keep my distance inside myself
I'll never ask for any bodies help
You never knew the price we'd have to pay
But you will never forget my face
You can never forget my face
No not ever
You can never forget my face
