

There's A Party (Ben Crea Funkglorious Remix)

N.A.S.A.

(George Clinton)

Everybody's all together now.

We're a winner.

Everybody's all together now.

We're a winner.

(George Clinton)

This is for the ribbon, trophy, banner, and the cup.

We're a winner and they've got to give 'em up.

We are one nation...

(Chali 2na)

One nation special dedictation,

To each and everyone of the planet's inhabitants,

Plants, animals, men, women, boys, and girls!

(George Clinton)

We are one world,

All of us,

All around the world.

Socially engineered and archi-induced chaos,

We won't let them play us against each other...

(George Clinton)

There's a party, and we're all invited.

Not just some of us,

But each and everyone,

Everybody all together now,

Each and everyone.

(Chali 2na)

Using words, we can lock the flow.

In the process, open your third optical.

Cleaning up this hot mess we're responsible.

Through love not stress nothing is impossible.

We trying to embrace the peace and erase the beast,

Through faith and belief we can make hate decrease!

You should never move clueless when you pace the streets,

With a sign on your mind that reads space for lease.

Homeless faces weep with no place to eat,

While some never finish they meal, and waste the feast.

Never take life for granted no mistakes is brief,

Whether church and the 'gogue or you face the east at least.

Everybody gets they chance to bust,

Whether in perfect health or in cancer's clutch.
You can lower your gaze or you can glance and lust,
Looking for messages in music that answers us.
So sit back, and relax at one time
With the rhyme co-signed by Doc Funkenstein.
We drop something fine with nothing to prove...
It's one nation under a groove now let's move!
(George Clinton)

There's a party, and we're all invited.
Not just some of us,
But each and everyone,
Everybody all together now.
Breakdown (Chali 2na)
Come up to the front we got what you want,
Words that inspire your heartbeat to thump.
We're trying to united the whole world if we can,
So everybody join hands and it goes like...

(George Clinton)
Everybody all together now.
We're a winner.
If and when the place and the time come,
You be in need and I need none.
Needless to be in need.
We are one world, all of us.
All around the world.
The loser's not a loser cause he's down on his luck.
There's a need in the greedy and he's got to give it up.
To be a winner

(George Clinton)
There's a party, and we're all invited.
Not just some of us,
But each and everyone,
Everybody all together now.
