

Look Into My Eyes

George Lamond

It's been so long, girl, since I felt this way
So many times you stole my heart away
Before I say the things I want to say
I need to know that you will be the one, the one for me I'd like to know how far this love will go
I want to be the one who's left to know
That this won't only be a memory
Just tell me what you see, just what this love can be Just look into my eyes and tell me what you see
Promises were broken, now it's you, girl, that I need
Just look into my eyes, you'll see a rainbow we can share
Please don't let this be another lie
Just look into my eyes, just look into my eyes Now as I count the hours of the day
Just tell me what I need to hear you say
I want to play those games I used to play
Baby, can't you see, just what you do, do to me? It's hard enough to find a love that's true
How Heaven knows, girl, I wanted to be with you?
Some other times, I've left it up to you
Just open up your heart and girl, just turn the key Just look into my eyes and tell me what you see
Promises were broken, now it's you, girl, that I need
Just look into my eyes, you'll see a rainbow we can share
Please don't let this be another lie
Just look into my eyes, just look into my eyes How I need you, girl, to find a love so true
Just take my hand and show me what this means to you
A special lover, all our dreams come true
Just look into my eyes and share this dream, just me and you Just look into my eyes and tell me what you see
Promises were broken, now it's you, girl, that I need
Just look into my eyes, you'll see a rainbow we can share
Please don't let this be another lie Just look into my eyes and tell me what you see
Promises were broken, now it's you, girl, that I need
Just look into my eyes, you'll see a rainbow we can share
Please don't let this be another lie
Just look into my eyes, just look into my eyes Just look into my eyes
