I Bet You

Mike Bauer

Verse 1:
See, I've been watching and waiting anticipating all the love that you send you'd be sending on your overnight express. Damn you're looking fine in that dress that you're wearing, I keep staring at you glossed over lips soft to the touch of my kiss. You're making me lose my mind but I but you do this all the time.Chorus:
And I bet you, I bet you, I bet you, I bet you wandered around this town
And I bet you, I bet you, I bet you wanted to run when you realized the love you give was never coming back to you. So what are you gonna do?Verse 2:
I'm coming by you, right beside you caressing your soul with my touch. You assume I can taste you as I trace you and outline your skin with the brush that I used to repaint you, invigorate you. Redefine those lines that were blurred from the tears you cried and the life that you left behind but I bet you miss him some nights.ChorusBridge 1:
When you find he's the type that will love you and leave you because he's blind. When it comes to affection and giving you your desire, he never seems to know, no, exactly what you need... But I bet you'll run to me.Verse 3:
Patience aching, I'm awaiting anxiously my love for you. I'm creating, I'm intaking, all that you've dreamed of. I can see the doubt conveyed in soft dark eyes. Painted ceilings, covered feelings, turn out the lights and Hide.Bridge 2:
The dark is the answer to everything you seek. It's perplexing you won't let confusion set you free. But he won't let you go, no, you're stuck on in between, but I bet you will break free.
