Gameface

I found a home right here. I'm never alone right here.
It's a place I can always be myself, where we are me and you.
It's not a room at the top but it's more than just a room with a view
I feel alive and I'm living my way--this is my dream and you're a part of it.

I've had this feeling from the start of it. that we would somehow find a groove to call our own.

I wouldn't change for anything some measure success in dollars and cents,
That makes no sense to me.

I've got these friends on my side and that's all that I will ever need to feel alive-living my way
