

It's Too Late Now

The Swinging Blue Jeans

It's too late now for you to be sorry
It's too late now for you to be blue
It's too late now for you to worry
For I've found somebody new
I've found somebody new

You had a chance, but you misused it
I tried so hard to make you love me too
Now that I'm gone, you find you need me
But I'm all through with you

Cry, cry, cry your eyes out
It's hard, but you know what to do
Then when you find another heart to play with you
Think before you break it into

It's too late now for you to be sorry
It's too late now for you to be blue
It's too late now for you to worry
For I've found somebody new

Cry, cry, cry your eyes out
It's hard, but you know what to do
Then when you find another heart to play with you
Think before you break it into

You had a chance, but you misused it
I tried so hard to make you love me too
Now that I'm gone, you find you need me
But I'm all through with you

I'm all through with you
I'm all through with you
