

Heartbreakers (feat. Kevvy)

Matt Webb

I remember the nights.
You remember the mornings.
I'm forgetting this fights.
You're ignoring the warnings, dear.'Cause we're all heart breakers here,
and we're not what we appear.
There's a crack in the veneer,
but here we are,
here we go--I'm not everything you need,
You're not everything to me, to me.
And I and not everything you see,
we're everything they- everything they need, baby.(Kevvy)
I'm forgetting the nights,
you're forgetting the warnings.
I'm regretting the fights,
You're still there in the mornings, dear.'Cause we're all heart breakers here,
Not what we appear.
There's a crack in the veneer,
but here we are,
here we go--I'm not everything you need,
You're not everything to me, to me.
And I and not everything you see,
we're everything they- everything they need, baby.Baby.So where do we go now,
So where do we go now, dear?
'Cause we're all heart breakers here.
There's a crack in the veneer,
but here we are, here we go--I'm not everything you need,
You're not everything to me, to me.
And I and not everything you see,
we're everything they- everything they need, baby.
