I've Cried My Last Tear for You

Ricky Van Shelton

When you left me lonely here, I thought that I would drown in tears
As one was wiped away, another one would take its place
Drop by drop as time went by, I slowly ran the river dry
Until I finally realized todayWell, I've cried my last tear for you, wasted my last year on you
There's no trace of the heartache I knew
It's been raining pain since you walked out, baby, that's all over now
'Cause I cried my last tear for youWell, I used to lay alone in bed, with my pillow soaken wet
And all of those lonely nights, I thought there was no end in sight
I cried my heart out over you, then I cried the hurt out too
It took a while but now I'll be all rightWell, I've cried my last tear for you, wasted my last year on you
There's no trace of the heartache I knew
Well, it's been raining pain since you walked out, baby, that's all over now
'Cause I cried my last tear for you
Yeah, baby, I cried my last tear for you
