

Arrivals (Voice Note)

Silverstein

You're killin' me, kid
But I know you're not trying to
It's just that I've crossed out more than I wrote down
For you And now I'm trying to play it off
Like "Oh I wasn't trying that hard"
What I'm trying to say, is I was trying to say
That you should come home I know it seems crazy
But the weather changed as soon as you left
And even wearing a coat now,
I think it's too cold to sit in front of Holyoke But I guess you'll be here soon
So you can see for yourself
I just thought you should know
If this is what happens when you go
Maybe next time, don't
