

Hero's Return

HammerFall

In a time of fear and confusion, silence charging the air The sunlight is gone, darkness lives on in the heart of the dragon's lairLost in a world of illusions
No trace of the missing ore Stealing our souls, we're out of control, knocking at death's doorAll our beliefs fading into ashes Heed the words that we prayFor a Hero's Return our hearts still yearn Rise and conquer, let the infidels burnNow we charge, the battle is raging, blood runs everywhere
Our anger is fierce, avenging the years
No time for a final prayerBehold, the might of the hammer, elliptical bolts of fire There's nowhere to run, nowhere to hide You're down to the wireSomewhere out there lies a new tomorrow for me and those who believeFor a Hero's Return our hearts still yearn Rise and conquer, let the infidels burn
For a Hero's Return our hearts still yearn Rise and conquer, let the infidels burnOoohNow, I've returned from a place far beyond My mission I set, let it be doneWe still believe in a brighter future
The dreams are ours to fulfillFor a Hero's Return.
