

Shadow Of Uther

Kamelot

Due to the legend a new king will come
Rise in the morning horizon
Brave and believing for wars to be won
Born with the heart of a lion
He will fight for a country unite
Till the last drop of blood confines the oath
Till all will respect him wherever he roams
Deep in the woods, he can hear she's alive
Lost in the dark of a dragons lament
Searching the highlands in trying to find
Trace of Morgana, the Princess of Hate
He will be holding the sword in the stone
Knights of the kingdom will join him
Bring back the honor of Pendragon's name
From where the cauldron is boiling
But the shadow of Uther restrains
All the efforts to reunite the realm
A witch of his own blood from Heaven expelled
Deep in the woods there are prints in the sand
Leading towards where the Angels repent
King of the ocean and king of the land
Nothing can save him from Merlin's consent
Coming of storms, battles of war
Knights of thunder are fearless
Thus goes the legend, the tale I was told
Now we await his appearance
But the shadow of Uther remains
There is no way the king can break the oath
The shadow will follow wherever he roams
Deep in the woods there are prints in the sand
Leading towards where the Angels repent
King of the ocean and king of the land
Nothing can save him from Merlin's consent
[Incomprehensible]
