

The Mention of Your Name

Chris Rea

Time goes by
And every single tear, it must have well run dry
And the lonely nights
Become a strange accepted way And the years go past
Just like the old song says
The pain with time has healed
It couldn't last but oh, a friend
Like a fool mentions your name Sunny days, drunken nights
You smile and say, it's all right
But oh, the cold, cold rain
At the mention of your name Forgive me, please
If I shrug my shoulders
When I put my friends at ease as I get older
It's not that I don't feel colder than before Oh, I've become so good at hiding
What I feel without confiding
It's still the same, darlin', still the same
At the mention of your name

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>