

Frank

Matt & Kim

She grew up in a house
Made of porcelain, crystal, glass
Her brother left a year ago
Sister would end a halfMother is a name at best
And father was a mess
The ingredients were wrong
But dad you saved us allSo now I say
Hey dad, I learned this all from you
I must have won this time
Say dad, I learned this all from you
I must have won this time, this timeWorking late and losing lunch
While waking up and standing out
She never knew this all tasted
So good when it was hotAnd everything that she saw on TV
And everything that you wanted to be
And hear about in his dreams
So she could go to sleep and have her ownHey dad, I tried so hardI say, hey dad, I learned this all from you
I must have won this time
Say dad, I learned this all from you
I must have won this time, this time

Songwriters

RENZULLI, FEDERICO (GHIGO)/PELU', PIETROPublished by

Lyrics Â© EMI Music Publishing, NETTWERK MUSIC GROUP Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>