Open Fire

Caroline's Spine

you're gonna take me apart... with every little thing you think you know from pieces, to pieces
the lonely leaves are the last to falli don't know why, where, or what exactly i didn't do i've had to take a tougher way maybe not todaytomorrow tells me i've got no place to go so i won't pretend to know what it is inside that makes me stand beside you when they open fireyou're gonna take me apart... tap into a small, but noble cause where nobody's listening unless you look like something santa boughti don't know why, where, or what exactly i didn't do i've had to take a tougher way
what it is inside that makes me stand beside you when they open firewill we ever seek forever?
the more we think the less we know...you're gonna take me apart...
when they open firethey can't be far away...
