

Tell Me the Reason

Bill Kirchen

Tell Me the Reason
Each and every day since our breakup
I wonder if this would be the day we make up
And as I sit here in the blue thinking only of you
Well, I'm dreaming but I don't want to wake up
So tell me the reason and I'll try to understand
How two lovers deep in love would let it all slip through their hands
I believed in the beginning that our love was meant to be
Instrumental solo
My head is the clouds but it's always raining there
Slowly washing away the dreams we shared
Now they say time will see me through but time goes by and all I do
Is close my eyes and make believe that you still care
So tell me the reason and I'll try to understand
How two lovers deep in love would let it all slip through their hands
I believed in the beginning that our love was meant to be
Tell me the reason you turned your back on me
