

What You Want

A.J. Croce

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I walked away
'Cause I fell out of like not love
Im thinking of you now
Where I stand
Waiting for the perfect plan
To spark a flameSo fragile are the lives we lead
So simple are the words we need
So few and yet so far between
What you want and really needI sleep alone
Better than lie in bed
Im only lonely now
For in time
I will find the one I seek
When Im done searchingSo fragile are the lives we lead
So simple are the words we need
So few and yet so far between
What you want and really needIf you can think that its been easy
You dont know how much it grieves meSo fragile are the lives we lead
So simple are the words we need
So few and yet so far between
What you want and really needThough time can heal
I dont need an hourglass
To feel Im mending
I see the signs
Soon I will be on my knees
Starting overSo fragile are the lives we lead
So simple are the words we need
So few and yet so far between
What you want and really needI walked away
'Cause I fell out of like not love
