Masquerade

Lunic

I never thought I'd find my way
Back to your front door
Black paint and broken picture frames
Strewn across the floor
I tore the room apart to find your name
Beneath the layers of 'the same'You're so confused when we're apart
How clever is the man
Who spends a lifetime counting cards
To never show his hand
In the quiet I can feel your shame
A faint familiar barricadeI can't see you
I don't hear you call
What am I fighting for?You know I wonder who you are
When I'm not around
A king, for queen, who playsa part
Or loyal in your crown
Through the doorway I see nothing's changed
The shadow of the masqueradeI don't need you
It's just been so long
How did it all go wrong?I guess it's how the story goes...Don't come back, I need you
Go away, I'll leave you
Hide your heart, I'll cheat you
Don't false start, I'll beat youThrough the doorway I see nothing's changed
The shadow of the masquerade

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/