Forgive Me

Mansun

You said that every man must stand alone
And now you see me as I really am
Now I've got to be a better man
If I don't...And I hope and pray that you forgive meI know that every man must stand alone
I know there must be some give and take
She said "all of your excuses make me sick
Don't go..."And I hope and pray that you forgive me
You'll be laughing when I'm goneI know that everything I did was wrong
Now you see me as I really am
But please imagine this scenario
A man, a preacher man he told me
Don't go, holding up my hands to say
I know everything I said was wrong
Now I got to be a better man
If I don't then you're goneAnd I hope and pray that you forgive me
You'll be laughing when I'm gone
I hope and pray that you will miss me
These two souls have had enoughAnd I hope and pray that you forgive me
You'll be laughing when I'm gone
I hope and pray that you forgive me
These two souls have had enoughI pray that you forgive me
You'll be laughing when I'm gone
I hope and pray that you forgive me
These two souls have had enough
Enough...

Songwriters
DRAPER, PAUL EDWARDPublished by Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/