

Wipe the Slate Clean

Vision

You and I are both the same
We dared to play each other's game
Now there's no turning back
I just don't think like that Wipe the slate clean and start again
Decide what is real and what is pretend
Wipe the slate clean and start again
Decide what it's worth or just let it end I let it go right to my head
Thinking of the things that you said
Now I just can't seem to forget What caused you to go astray?
I tightened my grip, and you pulled away
Just another brick to lay
Within this house of pain Wipe the slate clean and start again
Decide what is real and what is pretend
Wipe the slate clean and start again
Decide what it's worth or just let it end I let it go right to my head
Thinking of the things that you said
Now I just can't seem to forget
Can I find a way to forgive?
I just can't forget
