

Find Yourself In You

Everlife

She never thought that she would Get her second chance
Running so far from all she's ever known
Convinced she lost all meaning
Where did her dreams go
Still she knew that there was something more
Don't be scared, there's someone there
To say these words you need to hear
Don't let anybody tell you who you are
(Who you are)
It's okay to let go, you're that shooting star
(Shooting star)
Remember all you wished for
Believe it will be true
You will never find yourself anywhere else
Find yourself in you
Sometimes people tell you
Be like me to fit in
Do you know your identity is not in them
Don't be scared there's someone there
To say these words you need to hear
Don't let anybody tell you who you are
(Who you are)
It's okay to let go, you're that shooting star
(Shooting star)
Remember all you wished for
Believe it will be true
You will never find yourself anywhere else
You'll find yourself in you
Why should I measure the world
By someone else's design
Oh, I won't let this fly by
Hey, look over here I just found the real me
Now it's your turn to see
Now it's your turn to see
Don't let anybody tell you who you are
(Who you are)
It's okay to let go, you're that shooting star
(Shooting star)

Remember all you wished for
Believe it will be true
You will never find yourself anywhere else
You'll find yourself in you
Find yourself in you
Find yourself in you
