

Island of Life

KITARO & Jon Anderson

She sees me, she understands
She helps with all of my fears
When we stand together for life
Who will hold a child in her arms
She reaches out, so many friends
Who seek to live this world
When we stand together for life
She will hold a child in her arms
Without woman, earth would fade and die
Without woman who am I?
Who am I on this island of faith?
Who am I on this island of life? You are the sea, you are the sky
You are the ocean
I am the earth, I am the island of your love
She listens, she understands
For those searching for truth
We will stand together for life
We will hold a child in our arms
Without woman, earth would fade and die
Without woman who am I?
Who am I on this island of faith?
Who am I on this island of life? You are the sea, you are the sky
You are the ocean
I am the earth, I am the island of your love
She sees me, she understands
She helps with all of my fears
When we stand together for life
She will hold a child in her arms
Without woman, earth would fade and die
Without woman who am I?
Who am I on this island of faith?
Who am I on this island of life? You are the sea, you are the sky
You are the ocean
I am the earth, I am the island of your love
You are the sea, you are the sky
You are the ocean
I am the earth, I am the island of your love
Dreams are sent for the understanding of life
Dreams are sent for the understanding of love
