Breaking The Broken

Sparta

On a holiday slow motion sets its pace
And it makes me pray for Capricorns sweet face
Our lives get tangled up in progress falling short on life's test
When all that matters should be me and youAnd you say, "It's not okay"
Despite our life you cannot stay
And you say you're not okay
Romance postmarked holidayWell I can't explain how we made it this far
And you should know, only you control my heart
Feelings overshadow reason, blocks out everything
And all that matters should be me and youAnd you say, "It's not okay"
Despite our life you cannot stay
And you say you're not okay
Romance postmarked holidayI wouldn't trade what I got
Not for anything, not for anything
I wouldn't trade what I got
Not for anything, not for anything at allAnd you say, "It's not okay"
Despite our life you cannot stay
And you say you're not okay
Romance postmarked holidayOn a holiday
