

Gazing

Future of Forestry

From this blessed morning my love constant has been pouring
Pouring out like rivers to your heart
Glory bells are ringing, I can't keep myself from singing Singing out like rivers to your heart Oh Lord, I have found my place
In this home, this home inside of You
And here, my Lord, I can see Your face
In this home, this home inside of You And like a child, I'm gazing into a wonderful grace
'Cause you have been the love that fell like sun upon my face
And like a child, I'm gazing into a wonderful love You're taking me to places that my heart is dreaming of Broken I was crawling and you saw my tears were falling
Falling down like rivers to your heart
When my world was folding, God, you saw my prayers were flowing
Flowing out like rivers to your heart Oh Lord, I have found my place
In this home, this home inside of You
And here, my Lord, I can see Your face
In this home, this home inside of You And like a child, I'm gazing into a wonderful grace
'Cause you have been the love that fell like sun upon my face
And like a child, I'm gazing into a wonderful love
You're taking me to places that my heart is dreaming of Hear the sacred songs that touch the earth and the sky
See them rise until they move like stars within your eyes And like a child, I'm gazing into a wonderful grace
'Cause you have been the love that fell like sun upon my face
And like a child, I'm gazing into a wonderful love you're taking me to places that my heart is dreaming of
