

'Neath a Cold Gray Tomb of Stone

Hank Williams

Rambling by a lonesome graveyard
Everything I love is gone
Weeping as they lay my darling
'Neath a cold gray tomb of stone In this world I'm left to wander
With no one to call my own
Oh, my precious darlings sleeping
'Neath a cold gray tomb of stone Out there in that lonesome graveyard
She is sleeping all alone
And I buried my heart with her
'Neath a cold gray tomb of stone Skies above are dark and stormy
All the sunshine, all is gone
And the one I love is sleeping
'Neath a cold gray tomb of stone
