

Love Against!

Hostage Calm

Love against all reason and consequence
Love against all the history and bitterness
Love against their unconsciousness Love against the constant curse of circumstance
Love against all their warnings of the aftermath
Love against their unconsciousness, And the walls they've built around
Everything that you've wanted. Baby, tonight let them fall hard for you
They all fall hard for you
When the walls fall down,
I'm right there waiting for you.
So c'mon...
Love against, a secret told in confidence
Love against, the anthem of the anonymous
Love against their unconsciousness, And the walls they've built around
Everything that you've wanted. It's the one thing I can't lose. Their indifference,
Oh we love against. Turning, tearing
Overbearing,
They don't care 'bout us...
From the crippling grip
Of the way we're grown,
Past the palisades of broken homes,
'Neath their monuments to giving in,
Find me right there waiting for you. Baby, tonight let them fall.
