

Fading (Acoustic)

Jewel

Its walmart,the bathroom, im staring in the mirror, florescent lights are bright, that makes...the lines clearerwhere did the angel go? cigarette smoke's all thats left trade my wings in for a string of pearls, and the string is all i've leftthe light bulbs buzz, and someone's in the store big white, brick wall makes me feel small,
and i, take my shirt off, looking for a glimpse of flesh, feel that the concrete hope theres something natural leftcuz i am fading,im fading, imfading away i am fading just like fairytales, and the hero loses faith i am fadingyour hair smells like urine it's getting hard to breathe i could walk out that door, but, no one ever really leaves, and i, take my clothing off, trying not to forget stupid things like the color of rain and the smell of stone when its weti am fading, im fading, i am....fading away iam fading just like fairytales, and the hero loses faith and im naked in the mirror with a feather in my hand, a lady comes out of the bathroom sceaming "oh jesus" she couldn't understand, but i ask her, hey, what happens to us, when we get old and in the way? i guess she answered me 'cause they took me awayand i am fading, i am fading, i'm.....fading away
i am fading just like fairytales, and the hero loses faith and i don't know how and i dont know when i dont know when i forgot hope i remember again i am fading away
i am fading
