Whatever You Need

Ty Herndon

In what other lives have I known your kiss
And what forgotten moments have I felt like this
The way you touch me I come undone
You know me more than anyone
Whatever you wantIn what other lives have I touched your face
And what words did we whisper in a strange forbidden place
To be with you baby is to find myself
We're two of a kind, you and I
I couldn't love anyone elseYou are my beginning, my end
You are my lover, my friend
In this life, in this timeWhatever you want, whatever you need
I will be right here waiting, baby baby baby
Whatever you want, whatever you need
I will be right here waiting, yeah yeah yeah yeahIn what other lives did I feel your skin
And when exactly did I breathe you in
Feel like I've known you for a thousand years
You're so familiar to me and there is no fearYou are my beginning, my end
You are my lover, my friend
In this life, in this timeWhatever you want, whatever you need
I will be right here waiting, baby baby baby
Whatever you want, whatever you need
I will be right here waiting, yeah yeah yeah yeahWatch the sun go down, yeah yeah
My past and future in you are bound, oh yeah
I watch as time moves on, I'm alive and strong
And when I'm with you there's no right, no wrongWhatever you want, whatever you need
I will be right here waiting, baby baby baby
Whatever you want, whatever you need
I'm gonna be right here, right here waiting, baby babyWhatever you want, whatever you want
Whatever you need, whatever you need
I will be right here waiting, baby baby baby
Whatever you want, whatever you need
Whatever you want, right here, right here waitingRight here, right here waiting
Right here, right here waiting
